7 WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
8 AT SEATTLE

9 CORTLAND LINE HOLDING, LLC, et al.,
10 Plaintiffs,

11 v.

12 JASON LIEVERST
13 Defendant.

14 IN RE SUBPOENA MASTER NYMPH, LLC.

No. 2:20-cv-00068 BJR

ORDER RE: MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION OF MASTER NYMPH, LLC

15 The Court has reviewed the Motion for Reconsideration of Master Nymph, LLC in the 16 above captioned matter together with the letter to the Court from Plaintiffs Cortland Line
17 Holdings LLC and John Wilson, dated January 28, 2020. In their letter, Plaintiffs set forth their 18 reasons for still requiring discovery from the third-party, Master Nymph. (Dkt. No. 11). The 19 Court will consider Plaintiff's January 28, 2020 letter in lieu of a formal briefing. See LR 7(h)(3).
20 Therefore, the Court is prepared to rule on the third-party Master Nymph's Motion for 21 Reconsideration.

22 The Court has been informed as to the underlying case in the Northern District of New 23 York. The position of the underlying case has substantially changed because Plaintiffs filed a 24 Rule 41(a)(2) Motion for Voluntary Dismissal and the New York Court has issued a stay of discovery. Therefore, this Court sees no reason to require Master Nymph to incur the expense of 1 discovery until the Court in New York determines whether or not this case will be dismissed.

2 Unless and until the New York Court removes the stay of discovery in the underlying case, this
3 Court finds there is no reason for Cortland to continue to move forward with this request.
4 Plaintiffs' concerns about post-dismissal matters are not sufficient reasons to continue.

5 Therefore, third-party Master Nymph's Motion for Reconsideration is GRANTED.
6 Plaintiffs' discovery requests are stayed until further notice from this Court.

8 IT IS SO ORDERED this 31st day of January, 2020.
